Since 1967 the Arizona Thoroughbred Breeders Association has had an influence on almost all aspect of racing laws and regulations which has benefitted all horsemen running in the State of Arizona.

The goal of the Arizona Thoroughbred Breeders Association is to serve its membership and to grow into a strong viable organization with the ability to purchase land and build our own sales pavilion.

Fifteen directors serving for three years each on a rotating basis, govern the policy of the Association. The directors also assume duties during the year such as attending Arizona Racing Commission meetings and attend legislative matters pertaining to our industry.

The main source of income for the A.T.B.A. is our annual fall Thoroughbred mixed sale. Consignments come from all over the western part of the United States. All yearlings that are consigned and pass through the sale ring become eligible for the A.T.B.A. Spring & Fall Sales Stakes which are run the following May and October as 2 years old with an estimated purse of $75,000. (May - $25,000 bonus paid to an Arizona-bred winner, October - $100,000 bonus paid to an Arizona-bred winner)

ATBA Editors Letter

Dear Fellow ATBA Members,

Our 47th Annual October Yearling & Mixed Sale held at Westworld in Scottsdale, Arizona was a success. I would like to extend a special thank you to all who participated. Much like the rest of the nation we face the challenge of a declining foal crop in our state each year. At the 2014 sale we experienced a decline of 33 percent in the number of consigned horses. However, our sale was successful due to the quality of horses sold and market prices were up. The average yearling sold for $9,600 and our sale topper sold for $62,000. The sale topper was consigned by H & E Ranch, a bay colt by Haynesfield purchased by Robert & Mary Ellen McKee.

We saw a new foal crop from a Arizona Juvenile Stallion named EZ Dreamer. A few of his colts sold from $10,000 to over $30,000 at our sale. The ATBA is looking forward to seeing this years crop of two-year-olds participate in the Spring & Fall Futurities. Perhaps the higher auction prices may inspire some of our Breeders' to continue breeding their mares back in 2015. Hopefully, our future breeders will continue to experience improved market prices for their foals. An increased number of foals born in the next few years would certainly help us create a positive direction for marketing yearlings.

The ATBA continues to monitor legislative issues such as Breeder Awards to help sustain the value of our certified Arizona-breds. The percentage of last quarter's breeders awards paid out nearly 21 percent on purse's won. Our Lobbyist keeps us updated on the Governor's budget as well as other processes moving through the legislature. Advanced Deposit Wagering (ADW) has been in effect for a few months and latest reports stated an increase of $376,000 in handle. With a steady increase of revenue from the ADW, horseman may anticipate increased purse's for next fall. According to recent report's from the last ADOR meeting held on February 12, 2015, the Arizona Department of Racing is in the process of merging with the Arizona Department of Gaming. Mr. Rudy Casillas has been appointed as the Interim Director of the Arizona Department of Racing, replacing Mr. William Walsh.

Preparations for the Arizona Spring Breeders' Festival are already in the planning stages. We anticipate a fun filled day of racing celebrating our Arizona-bred athletes. Member's please mark your calendar and plan to attend our Annual Membership Meeting and Awards Dinner on Friday, April 24, 2015, followed by a day of racing on Saturday, April 25, 2015.

We all look forward to seeing you there! With best wishes for a successful breeding, foaling and racing season.

Sincerely,

Dove Ward

Stallion Venture Withstands Tax Court Scrutiny

by John Alan Cohan, Attorney at Law

Sometimes the Tax Court can yield a surprising decision. Tax Court judges are appointed the same way as all federal judges, by the President, and approved by the Senate. The judges all have significant experience in tax law, but their reputations vary in terms of how sympathetic they are to arguments given on behalf of taxpayers.

In this case, the judge was sympathetic to a taxpayer who conducted a horse activity with no profits, but whose testimony was honest and sincere as to her efforts to make a profit despite the difficulties.

This case, Coldiron v. Commissioner [Docket No. 5180-125] involved Linda Coldiron, who worked part-time as a successful consultant. Losses were about $562,000 over an eight-year period, and income was negligible.

The petitioner started with a young stallion with excellent bloodlines that petitioner thought she could promote at shows, and then breed. Petitioner researched the profit-making potential of various horse breeds, and decided to purchase an Andalusian stallion with an impressive pedigree, for $12,500. The horse was insured for $25,000.

She purchased a property in need of improvements, intending to use it in the horse activity, and constructed a residence, doing much of the work herself to avoid costs.

There was no formal business plan, but petitioner calculated costs and expenses, and anticipated that her property would increase in value. She registered her business name, maintained a separate bank account, and had business cards and letterhead stationery.

She hired a professional trainer, and the stallion won championships. An injury laid up the horse, and meanwhile petitioner developed promotional materials for use in marketing, including a website. The horse was chosen to represent the Andalusian breed in a national advertising campaign. Petitioner entered the horse into more shows, winning several titles.

The court concluded that Ms. Coldiron intended to make a profit, and allowed deduction of the tax losses. The court said: "It appears from the record that the efforts to promote Marciano as a top Andalusian stallion were successful in that his credentials were consistent with other top Andalusian stallions with demonstrated and successful stud careers."

The court noted that petitioner applied her prior marketing experience in developing the income-producing capabilities of the stallion, she changed her operating methods to improve chances of making a profit, and she maintained complete and accurate books and records, including a summary for each year showing expenses broken down by categories.

This case shows that even if a horse activity focuses on one principal horse, the expenses may be justified from a tax standpoint so long as there is convincing evidence reflecting the taxpayer's intentions.

Many judges will require more documentary evidence than shown in this case. Lacking a formal business plan, Ms. Coldiron was able to overcome this obstacle by her own witness dynamics. Apparently, the taxpayer was well-prepared, and her testimony was convincing. Another element was that petitioner's stallion in fact achieved recognition, and this was evidence that the petitioner could eventually make a profit in stud service and marketing of foals. ¶

Cactus Flower Stakes

Days before the beginning of the Arizona Fall Breeder's Day on December 6, 2014, Phoenix experienced some stormy weather. Heavy rains soaked the track and we were all hoping to see the warm sun appear. The Cactus Flower Stakes was the first stakes race on the card with six fillies and mares in the field. The track was listed as muddy, but later in the day it was upgraded to good. Camille broke sharp from the gate and vied for the lead with Toyon Bay along the backstretch. She drew clear on the turn racing slightly off the rail. Under urging from jockey Jose Rivera, Camille responded and edged clear in the final sixteenth in a driving finish. Aware challenged Camille along the rail and raced close, but was no match, finishing second. Toyon Bay saved ground racing out of the turn and held for third.

Camille crossed the finish line paying $5.20 to win, $2.80 to place and $2.80 to show. The winning connections were owner Ramiro Meraz-Martinez and trainer Manuel Ortiz, Sr. ATBA Director's Jan Osborn, Lee Vaughn and Wende Macumber presented flowers and Frank Abbate presented the trophy to the owner. Congratulations! 🏆

Cactus Wren Stakes

The Cactus Wren Stakes had a field of ten horses that went post ward for the distance of six and half furlongs.

Rockin Home broke from gate position eleven and was hustled to the lead by jockey Giovanni Franco to set the pace. His quick turn of foot was unmatched as he raced into the turn with Mo Rock laying second by three lengths as they raced past the half-mile pole. Rockin Home kept the lead entering the home stretch and was challenged by Silvanus with a late charge. Both dueled valiantly to the finish as Rockin Home inched away in a driving finish. Mo Rock pressed the pace early and held on for third.

It was an exciting win for the Metzen Family. Owner Tamara Metzen was presented with flowers from ATBA Director's Jan Osborn and Wende Macumber. The trophy was presented by Turf Paradise General Manager Vince Francia. Congratulations to Trainer David Van Winkle and owner Tamara Metzen! 🏆

Arizona Breeders' Futurity Stakes

Colts & Geldings Division

Michael Feigenbaum has had a passion for Thoroughbreds since 1973. As a young boy he recalls watching Secretariat win the Belmont by thirty-one lengths. After capturing the Triple Crown, Secretariat became known as “America’s Super Horse”. He made an indelible imprint on the hearts of all horse racing fans for years to come.

Every spring the derby fever begins to stir in all of us. We keep a close watch on the up coming three-year-olds, that can get the distance of a mile and a quarter. Handicappers tout us on the improving three-year-olds campaigning in stakes races, which prepare these fine athletes for the big dance. It can all be overwhelming if you think about how much preparation and planing goes into training a Thoroughbred into a big race like the derby.

But first you have to have a pretty good horse and a lot of luck on your side. Most nay sayers tend to think its just pure luck that gets us connected to the big race with the perfect horse. Maybe you just have to be positive and believe!

Michael was fairly new to the racing business and became reacquainted with the sport of kings as he rooted for Creative Cause in the 2012 Derby & Preakness. Michael conferred with friends that owned Creative Cause and followed his career, while thinking about owning his own horse someday. A share or a syndicate didn’t interest him. Michael’s ambition went beyond owning a small percentage. He knew he wanted to own 100 percent of a horse. He wanted to be able to call his own shots in the planning and training stages of a horse's career. Feigenbaum decided to just "put it out there" so to speak, and take a chance on selecting a yearling that had potential and possibilities in making a return on his investment.

CAN BE DESCRIBED AS BEING ON

Soon Michael decided he needed to find a trainer and then a horse. He met with trainer Robert Hazel at Turf Paradise and consulted about buying a yearling. Robert and Michael traded philosophies about racing Thoroughbreds and both saw eye to eye on certain types of horses as well as other aspects of the business.

Robert and Michael selected a dark brown, bay gelding from the Fleming Thoroughbred Farm consignment. They were pretty happy with their purchase and thought they got Prospector's Blues at a good price of $2,500.

I asked Robert Hazel about what he looks for when purchasing a yearling? He said, three things as he held up his fingers, "conformation, conformation, conformation." I agreed, conformation and athletic looks is what first draws your attention to a race horse at a sale. Then a quick scan of the pedigree page and a third glance at the budget.

It's all been an exciting experience for Prospector's Blues owner and trainer. I asked Michael Feigenbaum about how he felt when he saw Prospector's Blues take command across the finish line? He said, it was like no other feeling. For me winning that race can be described as being on Cloud Nine!

Robert Hazel complimented Michael for accepting his advice on bringing Prospector's Blues along slowly and for giving him time to mature, while maintaining his soundness. Hazel said, his first few races were more of a schooling experience to help him build confidence. As Prospector's Blues got closer to being entered into the futurity more people came into play with his success, such as the jockey Chris Russell and Ruben the groom. Robert Hazel gives a lot of credit to the team of people that worked with Prospector's Blues. It's been a team effort and we all are pointed toward the same goal of winning!

The Feigenbaum family is the main cheering section for the home team. Michael's son Sam and wife Monica all have a vested interest as they watched Prospector's Blues deliver his best effort. Michael said, his wife gets a little nervous as the horse's race towards the quarter pole. She calls the final turn "La Curva Maldita." She knows it's the place where the horse's and jockey's make their strategic bid to win a race. The tired horses will fade back, as the stocking horses sprint faster and the excitement of seeing your horse making his move can bring you to your feet!

Prospector's Blues certainly brought the home team to their feet with high octave cheers as he edged clear to capture the 2014 Arizona Breeder's Futurity Stakes (colts & geldings division). Prospector's Blues will also be Awarded at this year's ATBA Members & Awards Dinner. He will be honored as the Champion 2013 ATBA Sale Arizona-Bred Two-Year-Old Gelding Earner. The breeder, owner and trainer will all be rewarded with trophies. Congratulations to all the connections and on a job well done! 🏆

HEAVES, COPD, RAO, or SIMPLY EQUINE ASTHMA?

Heaves or broken wind are terms used for decades to describe an allergic respiratory disease of mature to older horses manifested by increased breathing efforts at rest and chronic coughing. Over 40 years ago, the German veterinarian H. Sasse used the term chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) to describe horses with heaves because of similarities with the human diseases in people and horses has grown considerably since then and it is now clear that heaves in horses is more similar to asthma in people rather than COPD. Veterinarians and scientists prefer using the term “recurrent airway obstruction” (RAO) that implies the reversible nature of the disease once horses are turned out on grass pasture. Equine asthma is used to describe the state of airway hyperresponsiveness following inhalation of dust particles commonly found in barns. Such exposure is usually the result of feeding moldy hay. However, some horses present identical signs while being on pasture during the summer in response to high levels of grass molds and tree pollen.

Feeding round bales at pasture is more likely to trigger equine asthma and is usually associated with more severe disease. Molds are particularly abundant in moldy hay. However, it is important to note that the same types of mold are also present in good quality hay but in lower numbers. A genetic predisposition has also been shown in some breeds, such as Warmbloods and Lipizzaner.

The goals of therapy are to avoid exposure to dust and to treat lung irritation. The most effective way to avoid dust is by keeping asthmatic horses outdoors all the time and not feeding hay. Appropriate substitutes to hay and grass are complete pelleted feeds or hay cubes. If horses have to be housed in a barn, it is important to use low-dust feed and bedding. Wetting hay or steaming it will help reduce dust levels, however some very sensitive asthmatic horses may still show signs. Most asthmatic horses improve one to two weeks after being turned outside on pasture with no access to hay but it may take one to two months for horses kept indoors to show the benefits from reduced dust levels. Horses that only improve partially after dust exposure has been reduced should benefit further from drug treatment.

Treatment with corticosteroids and bronchodilators help reduce lung irritation and hasten recovery. Oral or injectable drugs usually cost less than aerosol drugs. However, oral or injectable drugs therapy may result in adverse effects. Albuterol, a commonly used bronchodilator, is not absorbed orally in horses but is effective when given as aerosol although the benefit is very short lived (around an hour). Antihistamines may help some asthmatic horses but most will eventually stop responding to treatment. Recently, we showed that feeding a supplement rich in omega-3 fatty acids helps asthmatic horses breathe better and stop coughing within two to four weeks.

Remember, horses evolved on earth as free roaming grazing animals. Modern use of horses dictated husbandry practices that are not ideal for the horse respiratory health. Asthmatic horse in particular will greatly benefit from returning to their ancestral environment.

MYRNA LOU

10 Lifetime Starts

2014 Total Earnings $90,358

Myrna Lou is a chestnut filly by Top Hit out of Rosa Amarilla. She was consigned to the 2013 ATBA Fall Yearling Sale by breeder Fleming Thoroughbred Farm LLC and was purchased for $6,500. Trainer Molly Pearson started Myrna Lou at Turf Paradise in the futurity trials, in which she qualified and went on to finish sixth in the 2014 ATBA Spring Sales Stakes Futurity.

Later Myrna Lou was shipped to California to be conditioned and she broke her maiden in her third start at Santa Anita. In July, she placed second in the $50,000 added, Juan Gonzales Memorial Stakes. Her racing career was improving during the summer, when she captured her second win at Del Mar in an starter/optional claiming race.

In the 2014 Arizona Breeders Futurity (fillies division) jockey Adolfo Morales took the lead on Myrna Lou as they raced down the back stretch towards the half-mile marker. Anita Sunset challenged gamely saving ground racing close along the inside rail. The two fillies continued to battle it out going nose to nose down the lane, but Myrna Lou got the head bob at the wire winning the photo by a neck over Anita Sunset. Tactical Rocket closed steadily and was up for third. Myrna Lou vied throughout and never lost her focus. This was her first stakes victory and she proved to be the best with a driving finish. The official time of the six furlongs was 1:11.47. The track condition was upgraded to good. Congratulations to the winning connections on an exciting win! 🏆

The Legacy of The Rollins

by Nancy Rollins

America in the early years of the 1900's was enthralled with horse-racing. In fact, it was one of the largest spectator sports of its time, along with baseball and boxing. On the first Saturday in May, people everywhere gathered around their radios to hear the call of the Kentucky Derby.

Since electricity didn't come to rural Wyoming until 1938, Hayward Rollins would load up his young son, Lyman, and his hired hands and drive to the nearest town with electricity to listen to the running of the Kentucky Derby on the radio. Lyman's growing up years were filled with national stories of Seabiscuit, Phar Lap, Omaha and War Admiral. So it shouldn't surprise anyone that as a teenager, Lyman carved out his own personal race track on his family's ranch courtesy of the town road grader, which he "borrowed" when it was idle one weekend.

One of the most frequently asked questions I got while helping my father, Lyman Rollins, in his last few years was

ollins Racing Stable

“how did he get started in the horse business.” The answer goes back beyond Lyman to his father, Hayward. My grandpa Hayward, like most of the celebrations of July 4th and also in their case, July 24th a day celebrating the arrival of Mormon pioneers into Utah. At the age of nine Hayward ran his first match race - with his legs strapped to the horse. Lyman got his first horse at the age of four years old, a Shetland pony named Midget. The memory of that day was indelibly etched into Lyman’s memory.

After the death of his wife, Hayward needed a change of venue. He traded the ranch in Wyoming for a glass shop in Salt Lake City. Lyman and his new bride, Lois, moved there as well. Lyman sold his horses and tack to his cousin in Wyoming when he moved. But that didn’t last long. He soon bought back his old saddle horse and also bought a new stock saddle. He “stabled” his horse and tack in the garage of their new suburban home! This arrangement didn’t set too well with the neighbors, though. So Lyman leased a pasture for the saddle horse.

It wasn’t long until one of his uncles from Wyoming came to pay Lyman a visit. At the end of that visit, Lyman was the new owner of a Thoroughbred mare - in foal - and his uncle was the owner of a new refrigerator from Lois’ kitchen. Lois was not present when this deal was struck, so a trip was hastily made to Montgomery Ward to obtain another fridge for Lois - on a payment plan.

It was while replacing a broken window in a car at the glass shop that Lyman discovered Thoroughbred registration papers in the glove box. When the owner of the car, Grant Young, Sheriff of Salt Lake County, returned, Lyman asked him about his horse operation. Lyman offered to come to the Sheriff’s ranch each day after working at the glass shop and help him break colts. He was to receive a colt in pay for his services. Between the mare and foal from Wyoming, the earned colt in Utah, and the one that Hayward bought, father and son were suddenly in the horse business.

They continued operating the glass shop until Lyman was called into the Navy during World War II. In spite of their success in the glass business, they both longed to train and race Thoroughbred horses full time. The decision was made. Hayward took over the training operation while Lyman was in the Navy on the island of Okinawa. I was born while dad was overseas. At one mail call he received a stack of mail with my birth announcement, as well as a letter about his horse winning a race. To this day, no one is quite sure which piece of mail excited him the most!

When Lyman asked Lois how she felt about him becoming a horse trainer full time, she replied, “It’s okay, as long as you take me with you wherever you go.” After the war most of the track’s on the west coast were closed, as they were still being used as Japanese internment camps. Horse racing had moved south of the border to Tijuana, Mexico. Lyman took horses for Sheriff Young, along with Lois and his small family, which by now consisted of Bradley, Brent and Nancy, to race in Mexico. At Agua Caliente Race Track, Lyman won his first race on a recognized track.

Everyone in the family eventually got their turns at “mucking” stalls and raking shed rows - including Lois, when her children were small. Later Val, Roxanne and Stormie took their turns as well. Roxanne and Stormie were excellent grooms, and Roxanne even tried her hand at training. But horses became a lifelong endeavor for the two oldest Rollins’ boys. Brent went on to become a large animal Veterinarian and Bradley became a Jockey.

It’s hard to say when Bradley first rode a horse, but he officially became a bug boy at the age of 16. Of course at that age, he was still in high school, so he continued his studies when not racing and managed to wrestle in the state high school championships and got good grades as well. At the age of 19 he married his high school sweetheart, Sharon. Like Lois, Sharon was devoted to her husband, and that included the racing life, she followed Bradley from state to state all while raising their family of four children. Bradley was a very successful jockey throughout his career. In the heydays of racing at Centennial Race Track in Littleton, Colorado, Bradley made newspaper and television headlines, often winning stakes races, capturing the leading jockey titles and even winning up to six races in one day! Of course, Bradley's first "call" in any race was on his dad's horses. By this time Lyman's dad, Hayward, was doing all of the horse shoeing for the Rollins Racing Stable - a string of horses to number up to forty at any given time.

Eventually, Bradley hung up his racing tack and traded in his career as a Jockey for a career as a Trainer. Although he went out on his own for awhile, the time came when Bradley realized the need to be by his father's side to help Lyman in the twilight of his career. Lyman and Lois got a little home in Prescott and made that their main summer operation, while Brad and Sharon took the better horses to race in California for bigger purses. Here they garnered acclaim for the Rollins Racing Stable with Charles Heider's world-record setting Answer Do, among other good horses.

Bradley and Lyman both were very active in the Breeder's Association, each serving as President at different times. Bradley was almost irreplaceable at the Fall Sale, keeping it running smoothly for many years. Lyman was awarded a lifetime achievement award from the Arizona Racing Commission.

Bradley had been wandering into corrals of untamed foals from the time he could toddle. Sadly, while working with a fractious colt in November of 2006, Bradley was taken from us.

Lyman considered leaving the horse business when this happened. He said, "Bradley is my arms and legs, my eyes and ears." What are we going to do? Fortunately, Bradley and Lyman had raised up other good helpers. Lyman asked Mike, Bradley's son, to continue in his father's place, which he lovingly did until Lyman passed away at his Diamond R Ranch in October of 2012.

Brad and Sharon's sons, Mike and Scott got an early start in the business, mucking stalls and raking shedrow's just like the rest of us. Over the years Mike and Scott have both contributed the Rollins Racing Stables, working for their grandfather and father. Though they have sometimes gone out on their own and even into very unrelated businesses, they have always been drawn back to the racing life, galloping and training their own and others' horses. We are happy to see that the Rollins Racing legacy is continuing in good hands.

Lois & Lyman Rollins 50th Wedding Anniversary.

The Rollins Racing legacy includes many wins, track and world records and numerous leading trainer and jockey titles. But the legacy that we believe is the most important is of friendships, honesty and good character. A California steward once said, of Lyman that if all men were like Lyman, he (the steward) would be out of a job.

And a friend of Bradley's said of him that he was one of the "biggest little men" she ever knew. We agree.

Our family wishes to thank the Arizona Thoroughbred Breeders Association for commemorating our beloved Lyman and Bradley with a race in their honor. 🍷

*1,000th
Career
Wins*

Jockey Daniel Vergara achieved his 1000th career win aboard Arizona-bred "Listen You Fool" on December 6, 2014. Vergara began his riding career in 1990 in Mexico City, Mexico as an apprentice jockey and later moved his tack to Canada to ride as a journeyman. He rode the southern California circuit for a few years and has ridden at many other United States racetracks such as Finger Lakes, New York and Canterbury Down in Minnesota, but truly found his home in Arizona. Vergara and his wife Delores, son Daniel (19 years-old) and daughter Angelica (17 years-old) all enjoy the sunny climate in Phoenix.

Currently, Daniel is riding with a 20.2% win percentage and is ranked 5th on the jockey standings at Turf Paradise. His mounts have purse earnings of $350,035 and his North American career statistics list his mounts as earning well over $10 million.

Vergara, recalls riding a filly named Carlsbad to her first four victories at Turf Paradise in 2008-2009. Carlsbad was an Arizona Superstar filly. She broke her maiden as a two-year-old and went on to win the Arizona Breeder's Futurity by 14 1/2 lengths and then she captured the Arizona Juvenile Fillies Stakes by 19 lengths annihilating the field. Going in to her three year-old season she won the Arizona Oaks and shipped to Santa Anita, Arcadia, California. She won the Santa Paula Stakes (G3) and the Hollywood Oaks (G2). Carlsbad had career earnings of $373,000 in 2009.

Daniel Vergara has ridden other successful horses to victory. Atta Boy Roy for trainer Valerie Lund at Santa Anita. His most recent stakes win was aboard Rock Hard Bunny, capturing the Queen of the Green Stakes. Congratulations to Daniel Vergara on reaching your 1000th career win!

Statistics compiled by Bloodstock Research Information Services, Inc., and cover North American racing only. While every effort is made to prevent errors and omissions, Arizona Thoroughbred can not guarantee their complete and total accuracy. Included are sires based in the state of Arizona. Deceased, or retired sires will remain in the rankings until after their last Arizona sired runners have raced as two-year olds.

Track Talk

The 2015 ATBA election has been certified, John Campo III, Wende Macumber, Shawn Haggstrom, William Matthews and Dave Williams were reelected to the Board of Directors for a three year term. Returning Board Members, Mike Chambers, Ron Chappell, Marvin Fleming, Dennis Miller, Kevin Owens, Jan Osborn, Scott Rollins & Filippo Santoro.

It was decided in 2013 by the ATBA Board of Director's to change the name of the Sandra Hall Grand Canyon Handicap to the Lyman & Bradley Rollins Handicap. Both men served honorably as officers for the ATBA and influenced the Thoroughbred racing industry greatly. Lyman received a lifetime achievement award from the State of Arizona Racing Commission. We hope you enjoy the story about the Rollins Racing Stable written by Lyman's daughter Nancy Rollins.

Thoroughbred Charities of America (TCA) is celebrating it's 25th Anniversary and is acknowledging more than 20 recipients for their work with Thoroughbreds. Whether it is through adoption, retraining or retirement the TCA Award of Merit is presented to these individuals and organizations who care and provide a better life for Thoroughbreds, beyond their racing careers. Patti Shirley, founder of Equine Encore was presented with an award at the New Mexico Breeders Association awards banquet on January 29, 2015. Patti provides a permanent home for nearly 100 horse's at her Tucson, Arizona facility.

On the inside back cover you will see Raffle information provided by The Jim Click Automotive Team for your chance to win a 2015 Ford Mustang 50th Anniversary Edition. Equine Encore is one of the Tucson Charities benefiting from the raffle, so be sure to purchase a ticket from Patti Shirley or Joyce Long to help fund a forever home for retired Thoroughbreds.

Bob Yeager passed away recently. Bob worked as the Jockey's Room Custodian for many years at Turf Paradise. Services were held on February 13, 2015. Our condolences to his family and friends.

Rillito Park opened its 2015 racing season under new management and has reported much success with on track handle and attendance. For the first time patrons will have access to simulcast wagering at Rillito. However, Advance Deposit Wager (ADW) has been denied for Pinal County residents until further specification in rules and regulations are amended.

Rillito General Manager Michael Weiss said their attendance is up and the track handle has been over $100,000 each day. Many upgrades have been made and new flat screen T.V's have been installed. A partnership with the El Charro Cafe is in the works and they will be serving their iconic Mexican food on track for the entire meet.

Apprentice Jockey Drayden Van Dyke has been honored with the 2014 Eclipse Award for outstanding apprentice rider. Van Dyke earned two riding titles at Los Alamitos and posted 192 wins from 1,178 mounts with his horse's earning over $6 million in purse money. During 2014, he commuted back and forth from California to Arizona, riding races almost six days a week. Drayden is a dedicated young rider and has achieved his ultimate goal of winning the nations Leading Apprentice Jockey Eclipse Award. Congratulations Drayden! Your hard work paid off!
