ARIZONA THOROUGHBRED BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

The A.T.B.A. was organized in 1967 as a non-profit organization “dedicated to the betterment of the Thoroughbred industry in the State of Arizona”. Since 1967 the Arizona Thoroughbred Breeders Association has had an influence on almost all aspect of racing laws and regulations which has benefitted all horsemen running in the State of Arizona.

The goal of the Arizona Thoroughbred Breeders Association is to serve its membership and to grow into a strong viable organization with the ability to purchase land and build our own sales pavilion.

Fifteen directors serving for three years each on a rotating basis, govern the policy of the Association. The directors also assume duties during the year such as attending Arizona Racing Commission meetings and attend legislative matters pertaining to our industry.

The main source of income for the A.T.B.A. is our annual fall Thoroughbred mixed sale. Consignments come from all over the western part of the United States. All yearlings that are consigned and pass through the sale ring become eligible for the A.T.B.A. Fall Sales Futurity & Fall Sales Stakes (Fall Sales Futurity- $50,000 bonus paid to an Arizona-bred winner for each division, Fall Sales Stakes - $12,500 bonus paid to an Arizona-bred winner in each division)

Rascally Rabbit made contact with Hidden Beauty leaving the gate, took a early command and set a pressured pace into the turn, carved out decent fractions while prompted Jockey Alvarado prompted her and shook free into upper stretch and drew clear finishing with impressively win by 5 3/4 lengths to win the fillies division of the 2025 ATBA Fall Sales Stakes Futurity. The pretty filly is conditioned by Trainer/Co-Owner Kevin Eikleberry. This two-year old filly trained well at Prairie Meadows winning both starts preparing for this futurity. The Fillies division purse was $50,000. The winner's share was $25,345 and the final time of the 6 furlongs race was 1:1 Rascally Rabbit was purchased from the 2024 ATBA Sale for $6,000 for the new owners Rascally Rabbit is sired by Lotsa Mischief and out of Hard Buns. Congratulations to the winning connections!

Go Sparky rated nicely off of the early pace, tracking four or five wide between rivals along the back stretch, chased to the turn then roused three wide nearing the Quarter marker, loomed to the upper stretch and Jockey Lopez vied for the lead in the final furlong. He's home stretch was giving the racing fans an exciting finish. Go Sparky drew clear by 2 1/2 lengths nearing the wire and won the 2025 ATBA Fall Sales Stakes Futurity (Colts & Geldings Division). The colts & geldings division purse was $50,000. The winner's share was $25,125 and the final time of the 6 furlongs race was 1:10.58. Go Sparky is owned and bred by Kevin Owens, trained by Ryan Kenney. Go Sparky is sired by Uh Oh Bango and out of Let The Girl Go. Congratulations to the winning connections!

Breeding Racehorses

THE BASICS

We all enjoy a sunny day trackside relaxing on the grass, a glass of bubbles in hand and placing a bet on the horse with the most creative name. But how do these beautiful foals become racehorses? Before we get too deep into this explanation, here are some terms you should become familiar with:

- A male horse is a stallion and during the conception and breeding process he is called the sire.
- A female horse is a mare and in the act of fertilization and parenthood she is called the dam.
- A colt is a young male horse, while a filly is a young female horse. A baby horse is a foal, and when young horses are aged 14 – 22 months, they are called yearlings.

Now we've got the basic terminology covered, let's get started! The first thing that's needed when breeding horses is a sire and a dam. Selective breeding is used, and many breeders will choose particular parents based on their history on the track and in the breeding barn to try and develop prizewinning qualities in their yearlings. There are several different schools of thought that argue between the sire and dam being more important in passing down characteristics to the foal. Some breeders insist on a proven competition record from the sire, while others look primarily at the dam, arguing that she may have more influence on the foal due to learned habits from its mother.

It's not just the parents who come into question. Pedigree is assessed by examining the performance of close relatives, in order to determine the quality of a horse's bloodline and the likelihood of success.

Breeders aim to combine sires and dams with good characteristics and plan to breed out the weaknesses or genetic defects. The previous offspring of the stallion can also act as a good indicator of his ability to pass on positive traits.

The breeding process can be an expensive operation; stallion owners are paid stud fees for the mating services of their horse. A thoroughbred stallion with a Group 1 win under its belt may command a fee of several hundred thousand dollars. Once born, the foal is brought up by the dam and weaned at 4 – 8 months of age. Even during this young stage, with just a few hairs from the mane, a Thoroughbred DNA testing laboratory can perform an analysis of its genetics. The results of the test can help give an indication of the foal's future: if it is suitable for sprinting, long-distance or to become an elite performer.

Most thoroughbreds are purchased through sales at auctions as yearlings. This is the perfect age because the horses are not yet educated, but are still old enough to be assessed for racing capability.

In saying all of this, it is said that genetics may only account for approximately 30% of a racehorse's success. Once the yearling is sold, training, nutrition, and our old friend, lady luck all play a role in developing the continuing performance of a racehorse.

A. T. B. A. 2025 Fall Yearling & Mixed Sale

Mother nature cooperated another year, had great weather. It's as easy as buying a one of a kind, exotic sports car. Those who go about it in a sensible way can get a thrilling and serviceable vehicle at an appropriate price. Those who close their eyes, grab their noses and leap, might just as well buy lottery tickers. Like those shiny cars on a sunny lot, horses can have beautiful bodies. In both cases, it's what under the skin that counts.

Although ancestry and confirmation go together, the correlation is complicated. What are the factors buyers consider when assessing a potential racehorse. In part, it depends on their intentions. Different choices may be made if the horse or offspring is intended for their own use or how the horse or offsprings might sell. The ATBA had a great selection to choice from.

The yearlings that brought the bucks graded high on everyone's list. With 98 Yearlings, 5 Racing Age Thoroughbreds and 20 Broodmares.

With the sound of the auctioneers dropping of the gavel, once again on October 23, 2025, Yearlings started making their way to the sale ring in hopes to be the sale topper. This pretty filly by Audible and out of Just Like Pop from the consignment of H & E Ranch started off the sale with a bang.

All involved in this endeavor; sellers and workers should be commended. Space won't allow me to acknowledge everyone... so, THANKS to all who helped make this the "Best Little Sale in the West."

The ATBA Board of Directors, and staff would like to wish all our buyers the best of racing luck with their new prospect's and we hope to see you in the winner's circle in the new year!

Good Luck!

The Importance of Written Contracts With Trainers

by John Alan Cohan, Attorney at Law

We all know that recordkeeping is important for tax purposes, as well as for keeping track of day-to-day developments in one's horse activities -- whether in racing or breeding. One area that is often neglected, however, pertains to written contracts with trainers.

Written contracts are important with trainers not only to protect the parties from unexpected legal liability, but also to provide documentary evidence in the case of an IRS audit. Auditors will ask to see business records associated with the horse venture, and often revenue agents find it incomprehensible that anyone involved in the horse business would not have written contracts with trainers.

The contract should make it clear that the trainer is undertaking the training of the animals listed in the agreement and/or to educate the owner on how to train them. The agreement should specify the terms and conditions of payment, and incidental services, like boarding, grooming, labor, transportation, veterinary expenses, etc., that might involve additional charges.

The horses to be trained should be listed, with the name of the current insurer, if applicable, the insurer's emergency phone number, a disclosure of the horse's vices or unique habits, and other pertinent information.

Under state laws, the trainer can impose a livestock lien to enforce unpaid boarding costs, and this fact should be mentioned in the contract. Enforcement of a lien for unpaid bills, however, is an undesirable last resort, and involves filing a case in court, with associated legal fees and delays.

The contract should have language specifying that the trainer will perform all services in accordance with generally accepted professional standards, and that the trainer will exercise reasonable care for the protection of the horses, and will educate and train the horses and/or owners to the best of his or her ability. There should be a clause pertaining to routine horse care requirements, or special needs.

For the trainer, the contract will set forth an "assumption of risk" clause to make it clear that he or she is not liable for injury to or the death of a participant in equine activities resulting in the inherent risks of equine activities.

To avoid any misunderstanding, the contract should state that the trainer cannot and does not guarantee or predict the success of the training program, since this depends somewhat on the individual physical and mental ability of each horse.

Trainers will always want a statement that each horse will be delivered to the trainer's facility free from transmissible diseases, and must be effectively wormed, and have current immunizations prior to arrival.

Trainers usually want the right to terminate the agreement on short notice for any reason, including the animals' poor health or unsoundness, dangerous propensities, or other conditions that make the horse unsuitable for training. Likewise, the agreement should state that the owner may terminate the agreement for any reason.

There should be a clause authorizing the trainer to obtain emergency care if the trainer is unable to contact the owner.

Another important clause desired by trainers is a statement that the trainer will not be liable for any sickness, disease, theft, death or injury arising out of the boarding or training of the animal except in the event of willful negligence.

It is important to ascertain whether the trainer has public liability, accidental injury, theft or equine mortality insurance that might pertain to horses boarded at his or her stable.

You should retain signed copies of the agreement (not blank copies), for if you are audited the revenue agent will want to see them.

For racehorse contracts the trainer may be designated as an authorized agent with authority to decide which races to enter, including claiming races, and which jockey shall ride the horse. There should be provision for the owner to have the right to require another jockey or his choice, and the option to withdraw the horse from or not enter it in a particular race, or to direct the trainer to enter the horse in a particular race.

What is Balance?

Trimming and Shoeing for Proper Medical/Lateral Balance

by Andrew Eisbree, CJF

To get a horse in proper balance you must begin by observing the horse's conformation and how his feet land on the ground. I begin by watching the horse walk as he comes to the shoeing area. Is he landing flat? Then I take a couple of seconds to stand in front and get a good look at the front feet to see if either the medial or lateral side shows any distortion. At this point, I've already begun to make a mental plan for balancing the horse's front feet. I always try to start on the foot with the most distortion. Before picking the foot up, I stand behind the foot and try to sight from the fetlock to the border of the ground surface of the hoof. When a horse is in balance, you should see three circles: the fetlock, the coronary band and the border of the ground surface of the hoof. Everything I do in trimming and shoeing each foot will have an effect on the horse's balance. By achieving a well-balanced foot with a symmetrical shoe applied, shoeing the horse becomes a very easy job.

Distortion or flares are indicators of a foot that is out of balance. In most cases, it is important to lower the part of the foot with the flare. If you have a good, flat surface to walk the horse on, you may be able to determine if one side of the hoof is hitting the ground before the other. In most cases, the side hitting the ground first will show distortion and will need to be lowered. Once you have decided how to get the foot to land flat, go ahead and trim it.

The next step will be to address distortion of the hoof wall. By looking at the bottom of the foot, I examine the wall thickness to determine if it is thicker on one side or the other. I then, while holding the foot between my legs, use the sharp side of my rasp to mark the hoof wall that I want to remove when dressing the foot. I run my rasp around the ground surface edge and hold it in such a way that it only cuts out an eighth of an inch up the wall. This allows me to make sure that I have plenty of hoof wall left for nailing on the shoe. A good rule of thumb is never remove more than half of the thickness of the hoof wall. While marking the wall, I try to define the foot into five symmetrical parts- the toe, the toe quarters (stopping at the widest point), and the heel quarters. If you do this on every foot you trim, it won't take long to get them symmetrical. I then pull the foot forward and dress the hoof wall down till my mark disappears. Now the ground surface border of the hoof should be almost a copy of the coronary band. I then set the foot down on the ground and take a look from the front and decide if the hoof is displaced medially or laterally. At this point I begin making plans for my shoe.

When preparing the shoe, we need to keep in mind our plans for balancing the hoof. I try to fit the flared side of the foot very tight while adding width to the opposite side. In some cases, this may require punching fine nail holes on one side and coarse nail holes on the other. The shoe should contain the five symmetrical parts of the foot. I find that even if the foot can't be brought all the way into symmetry at this time, the shoe should be made symmetrical and then boxed off back to the wall. Having a good perimeter fit and making sure the shoe hasn't shifted while nailing will result in a more balanced hoof.

1. This foot shows the undesirable effects of a long toe and heel. Note the misalignment of the hoof/pastern axis. 2. After trimming the ground surface and backing up the toe from the front you can see the positive results on the hoof/pastern axis. 3. Dividing the hoof into 5 sections can help work towards symmetry.

It has been my experience that balance needs to be taken into account at every step in shoeing the horse, from trimming the ground surface to dressing the hoof wall and positioning the shoe. When feet come into balance, resetting becomes a breeze, just trim off the extra wall and drop your shoe right back on the foot and nails are easily driven to the proper height.

Track Talk

A Horsemen's meeting was held inside the horsemen's cafeteria on with HBPA, ADOG and Turf Paradise Management's new General Manager Tom Ludt. They welcomed everyone back and ADOG reviewed the new medication rules and spoke about entering procedures and requirements for horses that have raced in other states and were placed on the Veterinarians's lists for injuries or other medical causes.

The ATBA had another successful ATBA Fall Yearling and Mixed Sale in Queen Creek, Arizona at Horseshoe Park Equestrian Centre. We had a new consignors and buyers. Lots to choose from, Yearlings you can start in the spring or Race age you could take back to Turf Paradise and enter immediately. Many Thanks to our Consignors, Buyers and Board Members for helping make our sale a success! Over the last 5 years since the travel allowance began, we have paid out $67,500.00. A big thanks to all whom have supported our sale.

HBPA and Turf Paradise teamed up to sponsor the Horsemen's Thanksgiving Dinner. It was held in the Clubhouse at Turf Paradise from 11am to 1:30pm and served over 600 people.

Turf Paradise has a new announcer this year. Welcome Vic Stoffer to our racing family.

HORSEMEN: Pima County Arizona Horseracing Association hosted a horsemens meeting to re "The New Rillito Downs & Entertainment Complex" on Wed Nov 5th. They discussed including location, racetrack, dormitories, timelines, designs, restaurants, vet clinic, equine pool and surgery/imaging center and more. For more information contact JoAnn Di Filippo or Mike Hagan.

RING THE BELL... The ringing of this bell is more than just a sound--it's a symbol of hope and new beginnings honoring our 4-legged racing athletes to ensure future care for those seeking a second career.

All owners, trainers & Jockeys are eligible to ring the bell in the winners circle. Once you ring the bell, please stop by the horsemen's bookkeepers'.

Glad to see Chaplain John Shumaker back on his feet. Sending prays your way.

RIP... Richard Lull (Jockey) passed away from a sudden heart attack on November 18, 2025.

Polly Angeli passed away peacefully on November 15, 2025. Polly's passions in life were golf and horse racing. Our prayers go out to her family.

ARIZONA STALLION STANDINGS

Statistics include racing through Dec 15, 2025

Statistics compiled by Bloodstock Research Information Services, Inc., and cover North American racing only. While every effort is made to prevent errors and omissions, Arizona Thoroughbred can not guarantee their complete and total accuracy. Included are sires based in the state of Arizona. Deceased, retired or relocated sires will remain in the rankings until after their last Arizona sired runners have raced as two-year olds.

ARIZONA STALLION OWNERS

Keep your Stallions progeny eligible!

Stallion Owners;

Any stallion that stands the entire breeding season in Arizona, and files a copy of the The Jockey Club Report of Mares bred for that breeding season with the ATBA office, that stallion(s) offspring will be eligible to race in the Stallion Stakes Derby.

What this means to you as a stallion owner.

All 2024 foals of Arizona Stallions (standing the full 2022 breeding season in Arizona) will be eligible to enter the 2026 Stallion Stakes derby. This should create an exciting race as there are no early nominations, or late fees.

Stallion owners must send a copy of the Jockey Club Report of Mares Bred to the ATBA office each breeding season. This is mandatory if your stallion's offspring is to have the opportunity to participate.

Foals need not be Arizona-bred, but must be by a stallion standing the full season in Arizona and a copy of the Report of Mares bred on file with the Arizona Thoroughbred Breeders office.

The Arizona Stallion Stakes Derby is a restricted race for the offspring of Arizona Stallions.

If you have any questions do not hesitate to call the ATBA office, (602) 942-1310
